FOREWORD

Since the stature of a school is determined by the community which produces it, we, the Sojourn staff, have chosen as the theme of our book, "The Town of Norton, 1711-1961." By our choice, we wish to pay tribute to some of those aspects of our community which have made our school one of the finest in the state. The Sojourn Staff of 1961 is pleased to celebrate with Norton its 250th anniversary.

For the past two hundred and fifty years, Norton has been a prime example of democracy at its zenith. The SOJOURN, therefore, offers its readers a glimpse of our town, with its fine background of religion, culture, society, education, and democracy—a town which truly merits its citizens' praise.

AS WE KNOW

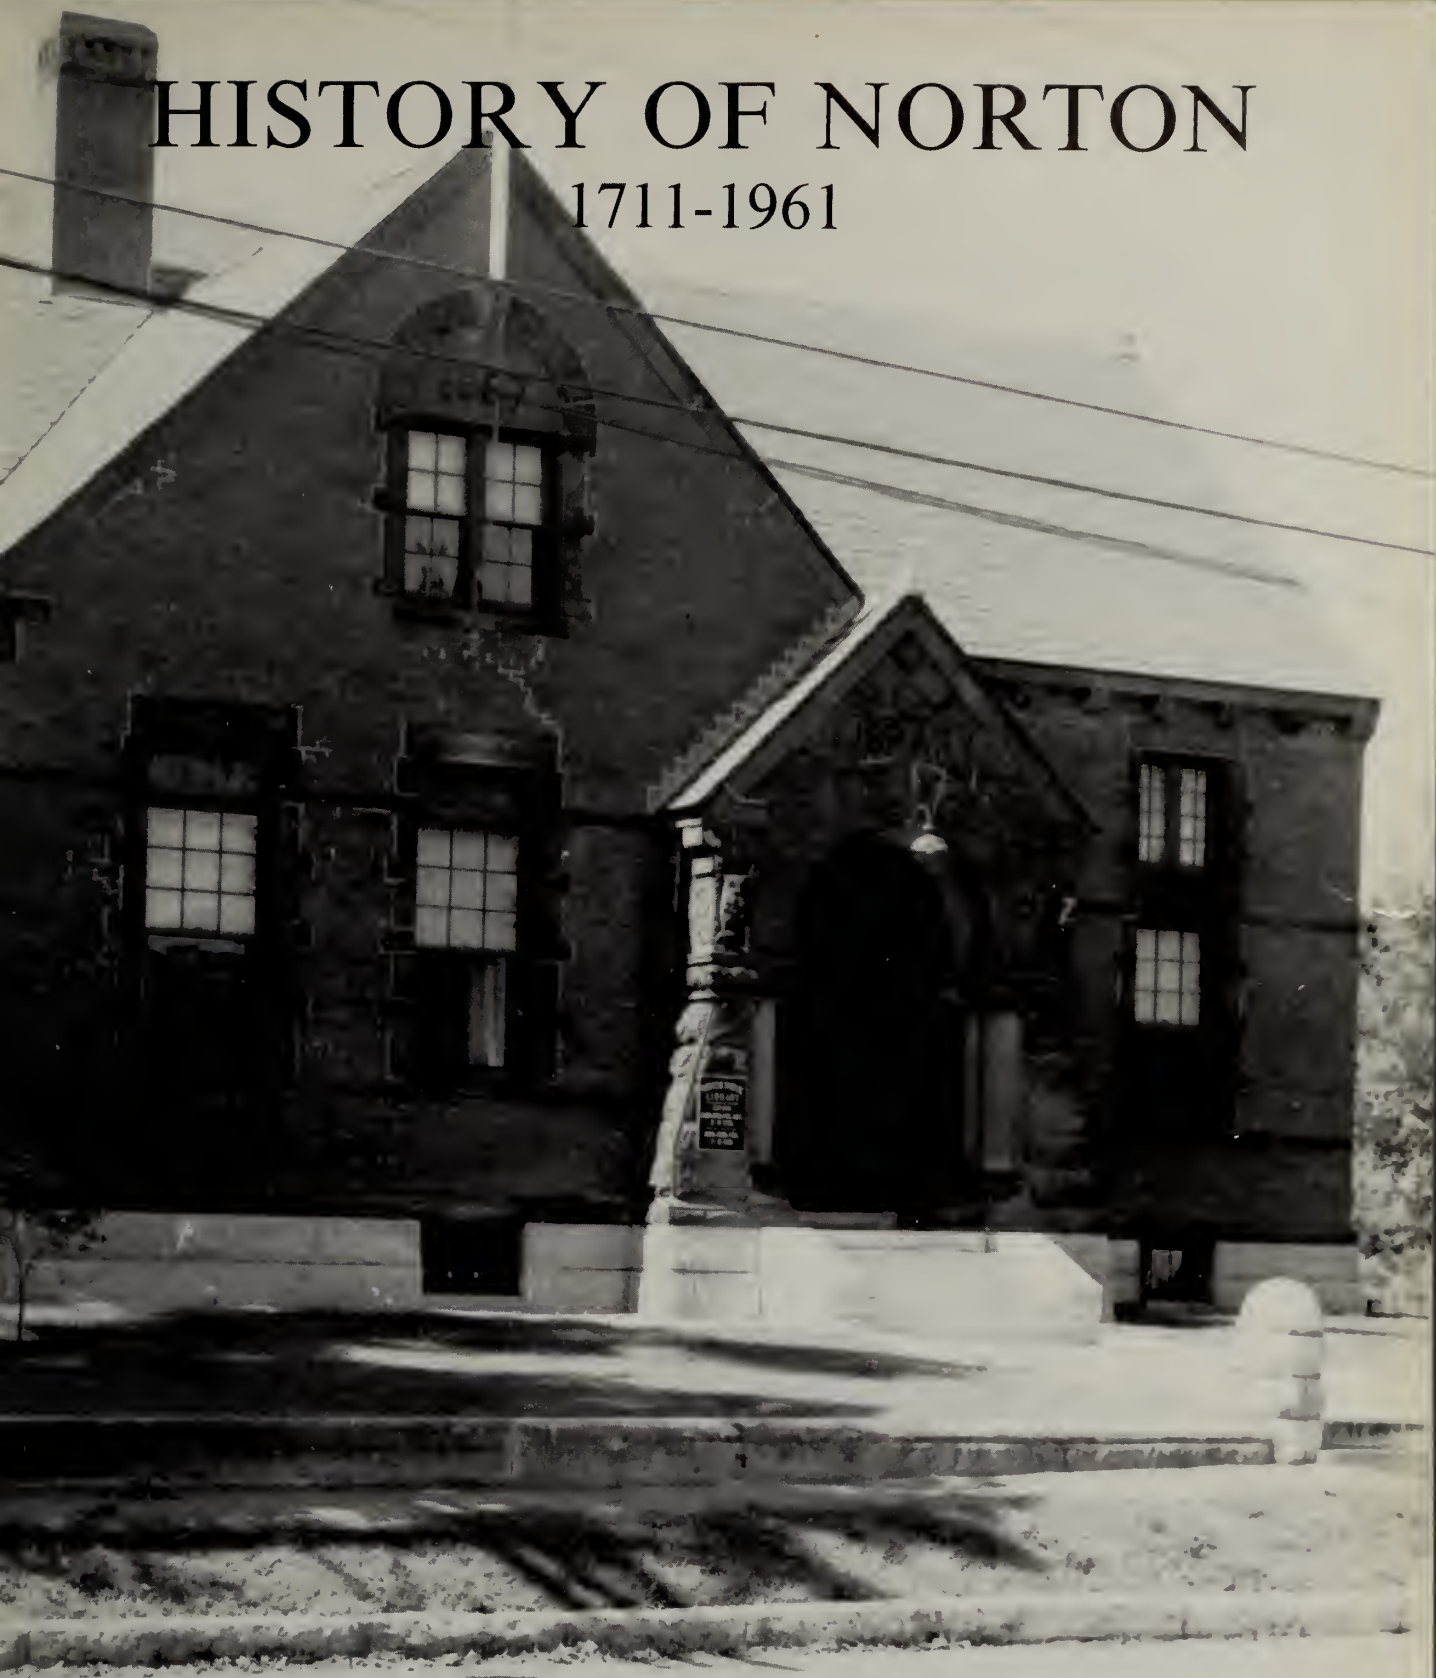

MRS. PAUL WESTLUND

Because of her clear insight, her integrity, and her sincere interest in us, which bring in response our highest efforts to develop those inner qualities we may have; because thus she brings to us the true meaning of friend and teacher, we, the Class of Nineteen Hundred Sixty-one, dedicate our yearbook to Mrs. Westlund.

divided into a number of small tribes. The tribe which made its home at Norton was the Cohannett tribe. Relics found around the Winnecunnet area indicate that a sizeable Indian town once existed there. The Indian village was probably destroyed by the great plague, a few years prior to 1620. Those who survived the plague and remained in this area seemed to have been on neighborly terms with the colonists.

Following the settlement of the Winnecunnet area, other parts of Norton were settled. In 1695, a grant was given to the Leonard family to set up a forge at Stony Brook to work the bog iron which seemed to be abundant. This industry lured settlers to seek employment. A few years later, Judge Leonard built the first frame house in Norton, which still stands at Chartley Corner. The last known Indian in the town, called Dick Quock, was a slave in the Leonard family.

Norton and Taunton, Massachusetts, have had a synonymous beginning, with their founding in the year 1637. Cohannett, now the City of Taunton, was one of the original settlements of the Plymouth Colony and covered a great area including parts of what is now Easton, Mansfield, Norton, Raynham, and Berkley.

Norton was still a part of Taunton when the first settler, William Wetherell, took holdings on the east side of Winnecunnet Lake in 1669. Later, Wetherell set up an "ordinary" or "victualling" house for travellers; thus, he kept the first public house within the limits of Norton. In a few years, Wetherell was joined by other families who settled near the lake in order to grow corn and to fish as the Indians had done before them.

The principal Indian nation, which had jurisdiction over Norton and other towns in Southeastern Massachusetts, was the Wampanoag Tribe. King Philip, the chief of the Wampanoag Tribe, had a cave situated in East Norton; it was his headquarters for fishing and hunting. The Indian nation was Norton, the North Purchase of Taunton, was under the jurisdiction of Taunton and the strict rule of the church. Because of the difficulty in reaching the Taunton churches, the residents of Norton demanded to become a "Precinct." After many years of bickering, it finally became necessary to petition, in Boston, the newly established General Court of Massachusetts which passed a bill providing that the North Purchase of Taunton might become a separate town "when the town could properly maintain a minister." The first church was erected in 1710 on the Common in the center of town, and a short time later, a minister was chosen.

Having fulfilled the Court's requirements, Norton was incorporated as a town on June 12, 1711, with forty families within its boundaries. The Court stated that this town should be called "Norton," after an English town of that same name and situated in the same relative position to that of Taunton, England. Norton's original boundaries were changed in 1725 when the East Precinct became the town of Easton, and again in 1775, when the North Precinct was incorporated as the town of Mansfield.

Following the incorporation of the town, the people of Norton retained the New England Town Meeting form of government which is still in existence today. The town governing body was and is the Town Meeting. All registered voters may attend, speak, and vote at a Town Meeting.

A minimum attendance of twenty-five is required for a quorum except for the purposes of election. Meetings must be held at least once a year. Two hundred registered voters must sign a petition in order to have the Selectmen call a Special Town Meeting.

for a term of three years. The only required qualification for a selectman is that he must be a registered voter of the town. Between town meetings, the Selectmen supervise the affairs of the town in accordance with the previously determined policies.

The first United States Census in 1790 reported 1428 persons residing in Norton; the Census in 1950 listed 4401 persons. The population in the 1960 report, under the preliminary Census, was 6806 persons. The township of Norton contains 29.4 square miles. It is the flattest town in the state of Massachusetts. The elevation

Soon after the town's incorporation, suffrage was granted to property owners without restriction as to church membership. Non-church members were required to attend church and pay taxes for its support. This requirement for support of the church lasted until approximately 1833.

Now, the voting regulations state that one must be a citizen of the United States, and must be twenty-one years of age, able to read and write English, and must be a resident of the state for one year, and of the town for six months preceding the election. The final requirement is that a citizen must register at the Town Clerk's office.

The town government is now administered by a Board of Selectmen, consisting of three members, one of whom is elected each year of Norton varies slightly from one hundred and seventy-six feet to sixty feet above sea level.

In its formative years, Norton was primarily a farming community, with farmers doubling as weavers, millers, sawyers, and iron mongers. The first saw mill was started in 1710; a grist mill, in 1714; and thirty years later, a fulling mill. Norton's pioneer industry was the manufacture of nails from iron; this iron works remained in Norton for approximately one hundred years.

After the nineteenth century, many industries, such as the copper works, the straw hat factory, and the friction match factory, sprang up, flourished for a short time, and then moved elsewhere. In 1810 there was established a cotton mill for making cloth; in 1870, a wool combing mill. Jewelry manufacture began in 1871 when the Sturdy Jewelry Shop was built on the site of the old iron works.

In this present day and age, Norton still has its important industries; but the general character of the town remains residential. The majority of the homes in Norton are single family homes owned by the occupants. The town, today, also contains farming areas—there is one particular dairy farm with over one hundred milking cows.

Today, Norton's population is spread throughout the town and divided into six districts: Chartley, Barrowsville, Winnecunnet, Norton Grove, Norton Center, and East Norton. Two of the sections have their own post offices.

Norton also has a large natural pond, Winnecunnet; and an artificial body of water, the Reservoir. Much of the town is woodland and Cedar swamps, and today Norton can boast of one of the finest Town Forests in the state.

Thus, the people of Norton are proud of their town which offers a convenient location, delightful surroundings, and attractive opportunities.

CHURCHES

Congregational Unitarian Church

The Congregational Parish (Unitarian) was the first church within the limits of Norton. Its first meeting house was built in 1710 on the Common in the center of town. The house of the first minister, the Reverend Joseph Avery, was built in 1711. This first parsonage is pictured on the town seal. The bell in the church was bought from Paul Revere and Son in 1810. The present church building was constructed in 1835. Today, the minister of the Unitarian Church is the Reverend James Z. Hanner.

The Chartley Methodist Church, formerly the Methodist Episcopal Church, had its beginnings in 1873 when the Reverend E. D. Hall from Attleboro held meetings in private homes. The chapel was erected in 1875 and dedicated in 1876. The first resident minister was the Reverend James Biram, who resided in the Judge Leonard House at Chartley Corner. The present minister of the Chartley Methodist Church is the Reverend Levy Robinson.

A portion of the parish of the Unitarian Congregational Church dissented and formed its own religious organization. This new religious organization became known as the Trinitarian Congregational Church, and was organized in 1832. The church building was completed on January 1, 1834. Today, the minister of the Trinitarian Church is the Reverend J. Stanley Dahlman.

The Trinitarian Congregational Church

St. Mary's Catholic Church

St. Mary's Church was built in 1865 by Father Shahan who was at that time pastor of St. Mary's in Taunton. Before that time, services were held in private homes and business enterprises. The Reverend John L. McNamara was named first pastor. The cornerstone of the present church building was laid in 1924, and the first services were held later that year. The present pastor of St. Mary's Parish is the Reverend William D. Thompson, and the curate is the Reverend Bernard F. Sullivan.

EDUCATION

WHEATON COLLEGE

In 1834, Judge Laban Wheaton established an institution of learning for young women as a living memorial to his daughter. The school was incorporated by the Legislature on March 10, 1837 under the name of the Norton Female Seminary. On March 16, 1839 it was changed to the Wheaton Female Seminary.

The Seminary had a distinguished record and in some ways did pioneer work in the educational field for women.

Mary Lyon Hall on Wheaton Campus

It was noted for its high ideals and for the fine character of its student body and of its faculty.

In 1912, the Seminary was organized by Mary Lyon and became known as Wheaton College. The college is now a non-sectarian school for women; it stresses liberal arts courses, strength of character, and responsible citizenship. The enrollment for 1960 is approximately eight hundred students. Dr. A. Howard Meneely is the President of the college.

HOUSE IN THE PINES

House in the Pines, a private school for girls, was founded in 1911 by Mrs. Gertrude Cornish Milliken. Mrs. Milliken was a former teacher at Wheaton Seminary. The school opened with approximately fifteen pupils, and today there is an enrollment of over one hundred and sixty students. The school has grown from the original two buildings to eleven buildings including a riding school and an indoor riding ring. Miss M. Elizabeth Johndroe is the present principal of House in the Pines.

NORTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Public Education, in Norton, began with the appointment of the first schoolmaster, Thomas Skinner, on June 1, 1719. He was hired for one quarter, at a salary not to exceed two pounds. At the time of Mr. Skinner's appointment, the town of Norton had no schoolhouses. The classes were held in private homes, carpenter shops, establishments, and religious meeting houses. The school year was divided into quarters; each quarter was taught in a different section of town for children in that vicinity. The youngsters were taught to read, write, and "cifer."

The first school building was constructed in 1817. Soon after the building of the first school, one room schoolhouses were built in each of the eight districts in town. District School #VIII was situated in Winnecunnet and was the last of the district schools to be closed. Until 1942, classes for grades one to six were held in one room and were taught by one teacher.

In 1902, Mrs. Wheaton gave to the town of Norton, land on which to erect a Center School, the first high school in the town. The town appropriated $13,000 for the building. Money was raised by subscription, to put in a stone and gravel walk. Ninth grade boys raised thirteen dollars to plow, grade, and seed the playground. In 1903, the school was opened with three rooms furnished. Previous to 1902, pupils wishing an education beyond the second year of high school attended high schools in neighboring towns. The town of Norton paid the students' tuitions.

The Norton Elementary School

In 1904, Mrs. Wheaton donated a fully equipped laboratory to the school now fully established. The salary of the three teachers was ninety-five dollars per month. There were thirty-two students in the high school at this time. The first graduation was held on June 27, 1906, with George M. Benis as Superintendent of Schools and H. E. Gardner as principal. Six seniors were graduated.

The enrollment as of 1960 is 621 in the high school. The entire school population of Norton is the record number of 1,460 students, and the high school teachers now number over forty. Dr. William Mahoney is the Superintendent of Schools.

In 1951, the Elementary School was built and dedicated. The school, at the present time, houses elementary and junior high grades. The principal of the Elementary School is Mr. Williston Holbert.

In 1955, the new high school was built and was dedicated by Dr. John J. Desmond Jr., Massachusetts Commissioner of Education. The new school is equipped with science facilities, a dark room, a special home economics room, a

CLASS OF 1961 HISTORY

As freshmen, our class was led by Elizabeth Eddleston as President; John Murphy as Vice President; Martha Reilly as Secretary; and Elaine Gagne as Treasurer. Our advisors were: Mr. Henry Amaral, Mrs. Carolyn Cooper, Mr. Carmen Reade, and Mr. Fernandes Lopes. Our project for our first year at high school was the "Freshman Record Hop" with Chuck Stuart as disc jockey.

In our sophomore year, we acquired a new slate of officers. Nancy Morin was President; David Braley, Vice President; Jacqueline Bernardo, Secretary; and Yvonne St. James, Treasurer. We sponsored the Thanksgiving Dance featuring Tom Dooley, a turkey. The Valentine's Day Dance was our last project of our second year; it was a great success and helped to supplement our treasury. Our advisors were Miss Ellen McAdams, Miss Roberta White, Mrs. Carolyn Cooper, and Mr. Lawrence Tufts.

As juniors we re-elected Nancy Morin as our President. Patricia Fitzgerald was chosen Vice President; Eileen D'Angelo, Secretary; and William Brady, Treasurer. Our advisors were Mr. Carmen Reade, Mr. Lawrence Tufts, Mrs. Paul Westlund, and Mrs. Carolyn Cooper. Because of Mrs. Cooper's illness, Mrs. Webber finished the year as our advisor. We sponsored the Thanksgiving dance featuring a raffle and a Faculty-Student basketball game. We sold Old Fashioned Chocolates and held a Valentine's Dance. The big project of our third year was the Junior-Senior Prom held on June 4, 1960. We chose as the theme, "Starlight and Roses." It was acclaimed the loveliest prom in Norton's history. On June 5, the following day, the class attended their Junior party at Rosemary Pires' home on Phinney's Point in Buzzards Bay.

Our senior year finally began. Our advisors were Mrs. Paul Westlund, Mrs. John Marshall, and Mr. Lawrence Tufts. Our officers were Nancy Morin, Joseph Bosquet, Eileen D'Angelo, and William Brady. We began our last year with the Get-Acquainted Dance and a magazine campaign. We held a Harvest Supper in November, and also a Thanksgiving Dance. Our Christmas Dance was a great success. Our Senior Play was presented in February.

The last class event was held on June 12, 1961. At Class Night, the annual class skit and awards were presented. June 14, 1961, marked the commencement exercises.

The Class of 1961 has the distinction of not only being the first class to have completed the six full years in the new Norton High School, but also being the largest graduating class in the history of the Norton School system.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

"A school yearbook contains a visual record of the hopes, dreams, and accomplishments of parents, teachers, and students. This year's accomplishment is no exception to the record of fine books that have been compiled by Norton's students in the past. My congratulations to all of the faculty and staff for an excellent job."

Sincerely,

William M. Mahoney

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

"It is good to look back over the past, to learn from it, and to apply this knowledge to our future. This year, the Sojourn's tribute to the founding of Norton two hundred and fifty years ago will give us a splendid opportunity to learn and grow and apply these lessons.

Faith in God, hard work, honor, and valor have made our town what it is today. Make these virtues the focal point of your lives and true success will come to you. This is my sincere wish for the Class of 1961."

Sincerely,

Henry A. Yelle

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS: Patricia Estee, Secretary; Peter Cotton, Vice President; Ian Ross, President; Mrs. Jean Findlater, Advisor; Thelma Morin, Treasurer.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council of Norton High School represents the student government. The members of the organization must be class presidents, home-room representatives, or club presidents. The Student Council has the power to initiate rules for the betterment of the student body.

The four executives, President, Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer, are elected by the students, after weeks of vigorous campaigning. The members of the council divide into two parties and actively participate in the campaigns. Student Council aims not to govern the students, but to adopt the worthwhile party planks in the school organization.

The Student Council supports the Get-Acquainted Dance in the fall and presents the annual Sports Night each spring. The organization belongs to national and state associations and attends several conventions each year. The Student Council is the most important student organization in the school system.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is an honorary organization. The members best exemplify the qualities of character, scholarship, service, and leadership. Rosemary Pires is the President of the society this year; Mrs. Jean Findlater, Guidance Director, is Advisor.

From an eligibility list which includes students who have maintained an eight-seven per cent average, the faculty chooses the students who will become members. Each student must excel in the qualities of character, scholarship, service, and leadership.

Six per cent of the Junior Class and four per cent of the Senior Class are admitted as permanent members. The probationary members include six per cent of the Sophomore Class.

An impressive induction is held each March to install the new members. Membership cards, emblems, pins, and, in recent years, jackets are presented to the students. Following the installation, an informal tea is held where the new members and their parents are introduced to the faculty.

BALL

Varsity Baseball, under the able coaching of Mr. J. Robert Ford, played an excellent season last spring with thirteen wins and four defeats. Following its regular season, the squad entered the Tech Tourney for the first time in eight years. Norton was defeated in the tournament by Wayland High School which later went on to win the class title.

This season the baseball team played independent ball as they have done for the past few years. The Lancers had an inexperienced, yet eager group of players this year. Through graduation, the team lost its nucleus of players including the catcher, pitchers, and shortstop, the second baseman, and several fielders. Even without its 1960 mainstays, the team proved that sportsmanship and hard work are as important as actual skill and true ability.

The school also had a Junior Varsity Baseball team this year. Under the direction and guidance of Mr. Robert Blasser, the juniors played excellent ball. The team is open to all underclassmen.

Ron "Jug" Bernard was a valuable pitcher for Coach Ford's squad; he helped the team out of many tight spots.

Ken Santoro caught for the Lancers this year and Roger Ramsey assisted the team as shortstop.

John Willis and John Zaccardi were utility men for this season's baseball team.

Mr. Lawrence W. Tufts, Coach

TRACK TEAM

Norton was not blessed with a winning track team last spring; however, we were represented by an outstanding group of young men.

Captain Reinhard proved to be one of the best milers in this area, winning all of his races but two. Paul's running mate, Arthur Lane could usually be counted upon to score directly behind him. After being switched from the 440 to the half mile, Paul Wing went on to win many races.

Bill Alston developed well as a sprinter and high jumper; he was rarely beaten in his specialty, the high jump. Pete Cotton, the team's best sprinter, was also outstanding in the broad jump.

The events of the shot put and the discus throw were ably handled by Dennis Shaw, Larry Dyer, and Roger Waite. Danny Araujo, Bill Scherer, Dave Drury, and Joe Lynch are counted upon to continue to improve and to score heavily for the Lancers next season.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM

Paul Reinhard, Arthur Lane, and Dave Braley formed a strong scoring trio for the Lancers' 1960 team. They were ably supported by Paul Wing, Don Smith, Charlie Trabucco, Joe Nasise, and Bill Stares.

Next year's team is expected to be a strong contender for district honors. Only Co-Captains Reinhard and Braley and fellow senior Joe Nasise will be missing from the team. The squad has some fine potential in Pete Holbrook, Jack Howard, George Gilchrist, Bill Scherer, Mike Faherty, and Rich Trabucco.

Great enthusiasm, determination, self-sacrifice, and plain hard work were the keynotes to the success of the team. Steady improvement was evidenced from the first practice to the last meet of the season.

The pressure of competition, the rigorous training, the pleasant associations, the wins, and the losses will be invaluable to these boys as they seek their place in life. A coach is fortunate when he has such a fine group under his guidance and the town of Norton is justly proud of the fine example they have set.

Dave Braley, Co-Captain of Cross Country Team; Paul Reinhard, Co-Captain of Cross Country Team and Captain of Track Team.

VARSITY

Mr. Phillip A. Norton, Coach

After losing eight of the ten players from last year's championship team, the outlook for this season was dim. Pre-season estimates of the Tri-County League placed Norton in fourth or sixth place. Captain Joe Bousquet and Jim Watson were the only players to return and soon were to form the foundation for the new season. Former J.V. players became the squad's nucleus along with All Star Leaguers Watson and Bousquet.

Norton, to the surprise of all, won its first nine games before being defeated by a single point at Hopedale, 62-61. The return match with Hopedale was played before a sellout crowd. After a tense and tight struggle all the way, our boys lost 64-62 in as fine a game as was ever played in our gym. The Lancers finished their season with a 17-4 record and a trophy for placing second in the Tri-County League.

Coach Norton said, "I wish that every group of boys had the same approach and attitude that this year's team displayed. Our boys had desire and a 'never say die' spirit which carried them through to their excellent record. I could always count on every boy giving more effort than was required of him, and it was this willingness to sacrifice and hustle that won many a game. The boys far exceeded any of my wildest dreams and it is a tribute to them that I and our fans will always remember the 1960-1961 Lancers as the fightingest team ever. It has been my most satisfying year as a coach, and I feel that these boys will always be a credit to their school and to themselves."

LANCERS IN ACTION

Roger Ramsey and his jump shot helped the Lancers score a tremendous victory over Hopkinton, 68-48.

This season, Norton had many sell-out games that rocked the gym in support of the team. The bleachers were full and the crowd watched with expectation.

JUNIOR LANCERS

Howard, W. Stares. (bottom row): J. Zaccardi, W. Sanford, Mr. J. Ford, Coach; J. Willis, Captain; J. Palmer. (absent): J. Lynch.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Junior Varsity Basketball team consisted of an entirely freshman and sophomore squad this year. Despite the obvious lack of experience, the team finished its season with a creditable thirteen wins and four losses.

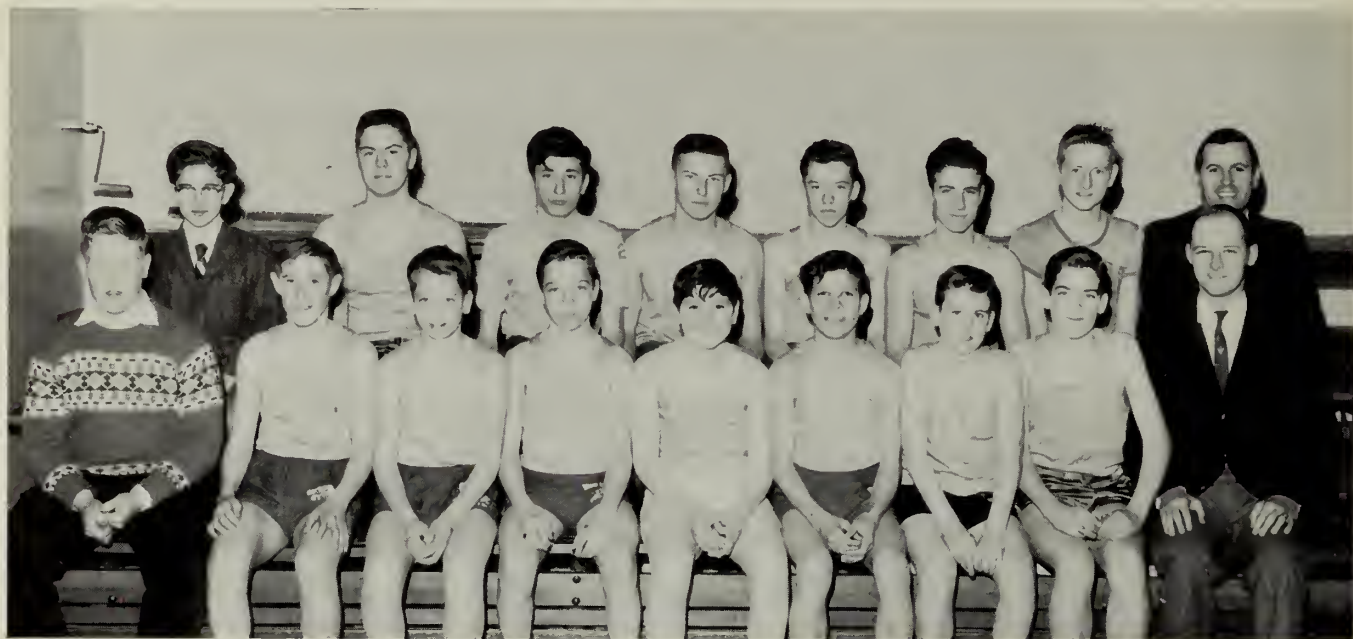

Led by Sophomore Captain John Willis, top prospect for next year's Varsity, the Junior Lancers played a fiery, hustling type of basketball. The only boy on the team with height, Jim Palmer, used his size to the team's advantage. The play-makers of the Junior Varsity included Wayne Sanford and John Zaccardi; both boys are credited with a vast amount of improvement and desire. Little Charlie Trabucco was the team's battler; he led his teammates in outside shooting.

The over-all season of the "J.V.'s" proved that the Norton spirit to win and to improve is dominant. The rules of Good Sportsmanship were observed in all the Junior Lancers' games.

Captain John Willis and Coach J. Robert Ford discuss a new play.

EIGHTH GRADE TEAM

The Eighth Grade basketball team posted an impressive season's record of seven victories and four defeats. In compiling its winning season, the team featured the scoring of Cliff Reynolds and Bob Letendre, the rebounding of Bob Angus and Bud Kennedy, and the play-making of Mike Faherty and Paul Rich.

Although suffering several close, heart-breaking losses, Norton Seventh Graders managed to come up with a winning season of six wins and five losses. Outstanding characteristics of the team were its fine team-play on offense, and its aggressiveness on defense. The outlook for next year is very bright for Coach Nuttall, as the team will have a strong nucleus in Steve Prosky, Dave Brown, Lee Raymond, Roger Lambert, and Kelly Hill.

SEVENTH GRADE TEAM

The Junior-Senior Prom of 1960 was held on June 4. This annual event is sponsored by the Juniors for the Senior class. The traditional grand march and the crowning of the evening's queen are the highlights of the Prom.

The theme of the Junior-Senior Prom was beautifully portrayed as "Starlight and Roses." The decorations were centered around a natural rock garden and a running waterfall. The ceiling was a maze of glittering stars creating an illusion of an evening beneath the heavens. The music was provided by Robert St. Amour's orchestra.

The theme of the Prom revolved around the natural rock garden.

The music of Robert St. Amour's orchestra was greatly appreciated by all.

The Get-Acquainted Dance marks the first social event of our school year. It is sponsored annually by the Student Council and the Senior Class. In attendance were students from grades seven through twelve and a representative group of faculty members.

An Oriental setting was chosen as the theme of the dance. The theme was portrayed through colorful lanterns, streamers, and silhouettes of Oriental lettering. The attractive decorations, and the friendly atmosphere provided an enjoyable time for all.

On May 7, 1960, the Massachusetts Association of Student Councils held their annual convention at Norton High School. The day's program began with registration of delegates and representatives from the various schools. Following the registration, a general assembly was held with James Fahey presiding. Platform guests and nominees were presented to the voting delegates. The assembly then divided into separate discussion groups.

Luncheon was then served in the cafeteria. The delegates returned to the assembly hall to cast their votes for the 1961 officers. The second general assembly was then addressed by Dr. A. Howard Meneely, President of Wheaton College. The newly elected officers were announced at the business meeting. The day's festivities terminated with a friendship circle and a dance.

Avis Rubin was Norton's candidate for Secretary of the Massachusetts Association of Student Councils.

After the speeches, the delegates cast their votes in individual booths.

WINTER WONDERLAND

DECEMBER 18, 1960

The Class of 1961 sponsored the annual Christmas Dance. This semi-formal event is long anticipated by the entire student body. It is one of the most important dances of the school year. The music was provided by the "F and M" orchestra.

The theme, "Winter Wonderland," was portrayed through colored streamers, frosted Christmas trees, and a fawn in the midst of a wooded area. The decorations revolved around Santa's Village, picturing a town's anticipation of St. Nicholas. The dance proved to be a tremendous success and a good time was had by all.

Seniors and their dates exchanged greetings at the entrance with Officer Keene and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Tufts, on left.

The fans circled the orchestra as it played a special request.

Santa's Village was the main attraction of the "Winter Wonderland" theme.

DECORATING COMMITTEE: B. Roy, J. Bernardo, S. Brown, P. Trabucco, M. Guillet, R. Bernard, J. Paille, chairman; W. Wilson, L. Champagne, S. Davis, W. Brady, N. Camara, W. Precourt, N. Morin.

Senior Class Advisor, Mr. Lawrence Tufts, crowned the "Princess of Winter Wonderland," Miss Patricia Fitzgerald.

Princess Patricia Fitzgerald and her date, Charles Butler, were surrounded by the royal court, including Diane Clark, Beverly Roy, Avis Rubin, and Marilyn Phillips.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

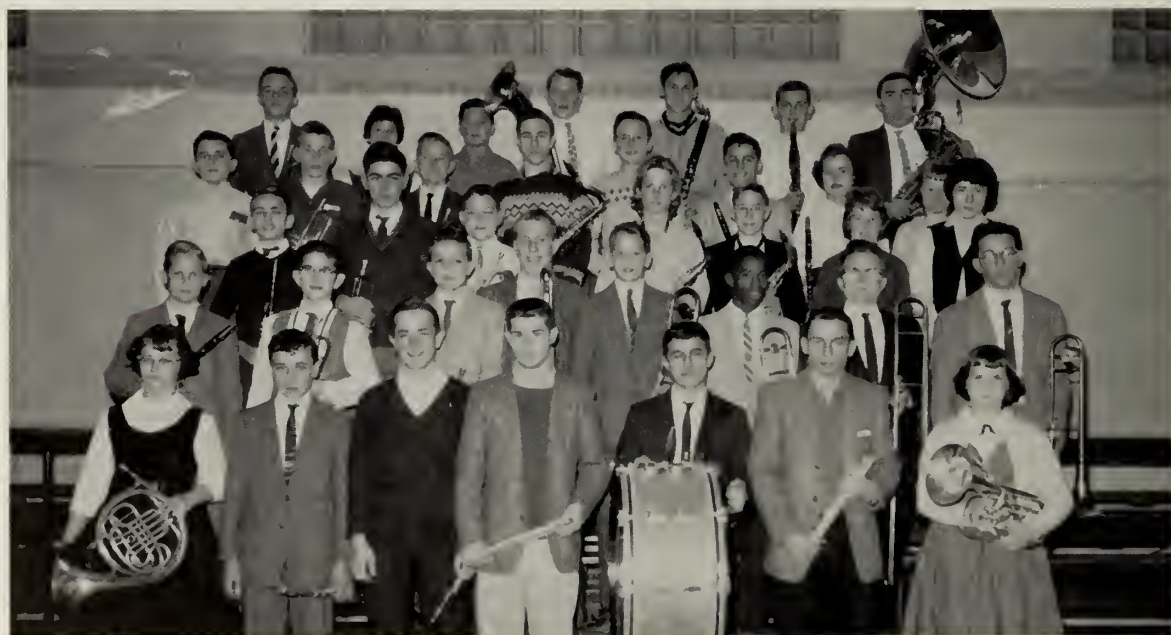

DECEMBER 22, 1960

A musical adaptation of A Christmas Carol by Charles Dickens was presented on December 22, 1960, as the annual Christmas Pageant. The presentation was a combined effort of the Music Department, the Dramatic Club and the Physical Education Department.

Grades one through twelve were included in the musical play. A Christmas Carol displayed fine acting, choreography, and singing; the presentation was a credit to the Norton schools.

NORTON HIGH SCHOOL CHORUS—ALTO SECTION

The Norton High School Band provided the musical background for the Christmas presentation.

Mr. Francesco Montesanti, Music Supervisor and chairman of the pageant, discusses last minute details with Miss Judith Walker, Vocal Instructor, and two students, Ken Santoro and Carol Innan.

JUNE WEDDING

MARCH 11, 1961

On March 11, 1961, the Seniors presented the traditional Class Play. June Wedding is the story of the Perry family during the week of Linda Perry's marriage to Gordon Gavin—if that day ever comes! There are romances galore—funny ones and touching ones and above all, believable and human ones. June Wedding is an hilarious story of youth. The presentation was a completely satisfying comedy for the actors, the director, Mr. Homer Paulus, and the audience.

INSTALLATION ASSEMBLY

On October 13, 1960, an installation assembly was held at the Norton Auditorium. At the assembly, Letters of Commendation from the National Merit Scholarship tests were awarded to Robert Staneck and Anne Reynolds. Principal Henri A. Yelle administered the oath to the officers and the members of the Student Council and the Gold Key Society.

During the avid campaign for Student Council offices, Mr. Joseph Martin, United States Congressman from Massachusetts, was elected honorary chairman of the conventions. Representative Martin attended our installation and was the guest speaker. His address was democratic and inspiring.

The newly-elected Student Council officers, Treasurer Thelma Morin; Secretary Patricia Estee; Vice President Peter Cotton; and President Ian Ross, are presented by Mrs. Jean Findlater, the council's Advisor.
